Description

Indoor plant with the greatest resistance to enemies and diseases.

A plant that will not tire you at all, since it is easy to care for as the water required is once a month in winter, 2 times a month in the summer. The only thing that can shock her is excessive water which causes her roots to rot. Place in a shady place as it does not need sunlight.

If you want to decorate your office or living room, it is the ideal choice since it stands out for its elegance. If you are true to feng shui choose it and place it near the entrance as it brings good luck.

Due to seasonality, market conditions and availability we may need to replace flowers, greenery, plants and the vases or caspo.
